JADEMO works hard to protect itself and its clients from unauthorised access to or unauthorised alteration, disclosure or destruction of information it holds.

- Systematically reviewing its information collection, storage and processing practices, including physical security measures, to guard against unauthorised access to systems.
- Restricting access to personal information to JADEMO employees, contractors and agents who need to know this information in order to process it for JADEMO. They are subject to contractual confidentiality obligations.

Wishing to make changes to the collected information via mail (info@jademo.be) or via the contact form on the website. JADEMO shall strive to update, provide or delete the information as quickly as possible unless this information is needed for commercial or legal reasons. JADEMO may reject requests that require disproportionate technical effort, risk the privacy of others or would be extremely impractical.

COOKIES

A cookie is a small piece of text sent to your browser by a website you visit. It helps the website to remember information about your visit, like your preferred language and other settings. That can make your next visit easier and the site more useful to you.

We use cookies for many purposes. We use them, for example, to remember your safe search preferences, to count how many visitors we receive to a page, to help you sign up for our services, to protect your data, or to remember your settings.

- Session cookies: The session cookie is stored in temporary memory and is not retained after the browser is closed. Session cookies do not collect information from the user's computer. They typically will store information in the form of a session identification that does not personally identify the user.

If you do not wish to accept cookies, you can amend the cookies settings in your browser. However, we can not guarantee that the website of JADEMO will then offer all possible functionalities.
